THERE HAVE BEEN NO ACCIDENTS OR INJURIES RELATED TO THIS PRODUCT.
THIS IS NOT A PRODUCT RECALL.

This product change notice is intended to communicate the updated use policy for the Guardian #10600, #53221, and #00250 standing seam anchorage connectors.

For all standing seam anchorage connectors, Guardian previously required an onsite Qualified Person to determine standing seam and anchorage connector compatibility. Guardian now provides a comprehensive list of standing seams that are compatible with all Guardian standing seam anchorage connectors - see pages 2-4 of this product change notice.

- If a Guardian standing seam anchorage connector is currently installed on a seam that is not listed, the standing seam anchorage connector must be removed from service and an alternate anchorage connector must be used.
- If the anchorage connector is currently installed on an approved seam, no further action is necessary.
- If the make/model of the standing seam in use is unknown, a Qualified Person must determine seam equivalence with an approved seam.

For updated instructions for all standing seam anchorage connectors, visit www.guardianfall.com.
